

CE COURSE EXPLORES GREECE AND TURKEY

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary will offer “Greece and Turkey: An Introduction to Christian and Ancient Sites” Tuesday evenings April 23, 30, and May 7, 2012 from 7:00-9:00. The Rev. Dr. James Davison, director of continuing education and lecturer in Greek, will lead the discussions.

During the three-week series, participants will review major sites where much of Western religious and cultural history took root. The sessions will focus in turn on classical and Christian Greece, New Testament and Muslim Turkey, and the islands of the Aegean. The course will be informative for those interested in the lands of Greece and Turkey in connection with the Christian gospel.

Continuing education units are available upon completion of this course. Registration fee is $35 and can be completed with a credit card online. Contact the Office of Continuing Education at Click to view e-mail or 412-924-1345 with questions.

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary is a graduate professional institution of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A). Founded in 1794, the Seminary is located in Pittsburgh, Pa. and approximately 310 students are enrolled yearly in the degree programs.
