

ENGAGING STORIES

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary will cosponsor with the Alban Institute “Engaging Stories to Lead God’s People: Narrative Leadership in Changing Times,” March 18-20. The Rev. Larry Goleman, the Rev. Dr. Carolyn Jones, and the Rev. Dr. Robert Anderson, will lead the conference for interim and transformational ministers.

The value of story-telling has long been recognized, but the benefits of integrating story into the practice of ministry are only now being developed fully. Participants will explore their own stories and learn how to incorporate them into their ministry.

Program cost is $385 plus meals and housing. To register, contact the Office of Continuing Education at 412-924-1345 or

Larry Goleman is a research associate at the Alban Institute who coordinates the Narrative Leadership, Transition into Ministry, and other projects. He is ordained in the PC(USA), has served as a theological educator in Asia and the U.S., and was recently a researcher and co-author of the Carnegie Foundation’s study of theological education, Educating Clergy. Carolyn Jones is an experienced interim pastor and seminar leader whose interim service includes work with both congregations and governing bodies. She was also Executive Presbyterian of Washington Presbytery. Carolyn is currently serving as director of Field Education at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. Bob Anderson is a certified interim pastor who has served churches and governing bodies as a transitional leader for more than 20 years. He recently served as Interim Executive Presbyterian at Whitewater Valley Presbytery in Indianapolis, and currently serves as pastor to the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary is a graduate professional institution of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A). Founded in 1794, the Seminary is located in Pittsburgh, Pa. and approximately 380 students are enrolled yearly in the degree programs. The Seminary prepares leaders who proclaim with great joy God’s message of good news in both word and deed. PTS is rooted in the Reformed history of faithfulness to Scripture and commitment to the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
