

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S FAITH JOURNEY AND OUR MINISTRY STORIES

J. HUBERT HENDERSON CONFERENCE ON CHURCH AND MINISTRY

On Fri., April 24, 2015, Ronald C. White Jr., professor emeritus of American religious history at San Francisco Theological Seminary, will speak on the theme, "Abraham Lincoln's Faith Journey and Our Ministry Stories," as our keynote presenter at this year's Henderson Conference.

From Ken Burns' Civil War, to Stephen Spielberg's Lincoln, to countless books, many windows give us a fleeting glance or long look at Abraham Lincoln. A neglected aspect in the Lincoln story is his faith journey. During these interactive presentations, we will explore how Lincoln's faith is revealed in his greatest speeches and how his faith can inform and challenge our faith.

The conference will be held on the Seminary's campus and is free and open to the public.

11:00 a.m. "A Task Before Me: Lincoln's Farewell Address at Springfield" Lincoln, on the morning he departed Springfield in 1861 to become the 16th president of the United States, in a mere 152 words, offered a heartfelt farewell. Admirers of Lincoln, in Chicago and Berlin, have recited these words to me from memory. With his encouragement to pray, this address is inscribed in the National Cathedral. Why does it speak so eloquently across the years?

2:00 p.m. "270+2 Words: The Gettysburg Address" Abraham Lincoln's speeches are a string of pearls. The Gettysburg Address can best be understood not standing starkly alone, but when compared to his other pearls. Only 272 words, in a profoundly political speech, Lincoln departed from his written text to add the words, "under God." How did these two words change the meaning of the whole address? On the first remembrance of 9/11, the people of New York recited the Gettysburg Address. Why has the address stood the test of time?

4:00 p.m. "Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address: A Public Voice of Faith" At 701 words, Lincoln's Second Inaugural is the second shortest inaugural address ever offered. The next day a newspaper correspondent called it, "Lincoln's Sermon on the Mount." Lincoln mentions God 14 times, quotes the Bible four times, and invokes prayer three times. Why do you think Lincoln called it "my best effort?" In our multicultural society, Christians have sometimes retreated to espousing only a personal God. How can Lincoln's Second Inaugural be a model for a public voice of faith in contemporary America?
