

Since 1794 Pittsburgh Theological Seminary has been preparing students in the way of Jesus. We welcome neighbors; share meals, differences, and experiences; expand our minds; and expect to be challenged by the broad range of beliefs we bring to the table.

FACTS ABOUT PITTSBURGH SEMINARY

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary was founded in 1794.

It is affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.).

The Rev. Dr. Asa Lee is the Seminary's seventh president and professor of theological formation for ministry.

The Seminary is located on a beautiful 10-acre campus in the East Liberty/Highland Park section of the city of Pittsburgh.

The Barbour Library is the largest theological library in the three state region, offering more than 300,000 volumes for research and exploration. Additionally, the Library houses the desk at which Karl Barth wrote his theological works and an autographed copy of his Kirchliche Dogmatic I/1.

Seventeen full-time faculty members provide a low student/faculty ratio.

Students in the M.Div. and M.A.P.S.programs participate in Field Education in a variety of settings including churches (urban, suburban, and rural), hospitals, and other nonprofits and special agencies.

The Seminary's master's degrees and certificate programs are offered through a hybrid format, with courses in person and online.

Resident students can choose to live in an apartment building or residence hall. Apartments range in size from efficiency to four bedroom.

SEMINARY COSTS

The Seminary strives to keep our tuition and cost of attendance low. Learn more about our current rates.

The Seminary awards financial aid in the forms of merit scholarships, need-based tuition grants, housing grants, and graduate assistantships to master's students.

Aid is available to both full- and part-time students.

Students who qualify for aid can also participate in the graduate assistantship program and typically receive $12 per hour for up to 10 hours of on-campus work per week.

Residence hall and apartment living areas are available at the Seminary at rental rates below market value for the area. PTS underwrites the cost of providing food services.

Students supplement the Seminary-provided funds with income from field work, gifts from home congregations and judicatories, support from parents and others, and student loans.

Full-time D.Min. students can also qualify for need-based aid.
