PITTSBURGH THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY – a seminary related to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) with a commitment to the ecumenical community – announces the opening of a tenure track faculty position in Urban Ministry. Candidates should hold a theological degree and a Ph.D. or equivalent, and demonstrate a sustained commitment to the church and to seminary education. This person will teach introductory and advanced courses in Urban Ministry, Church and Society, and related courses in other areas of personal competence in all academic programs of the Seminary (M.Div., M.A., S.T.M., and D.Min.). This person will also serve as a resource for the Seminary’s Metro Urban Institute. The position is projected to begin in September 2011, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Information about the Seminary and the Metro Urban Institute is available on the Seminary’s website at www.pts.edu. Address inquiries and applications (with CV including names and addresses of references) to the Office of the Dean of Faculty, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, 616 North Highland Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15206-2596, or by email to facultysearch@pts.edu.
