Gary Dorrien
is the Reinhold Niebuhr Professor of Social Ethics at Union Theological Seminary and Professor of Religion at Columbia University. An Episcopal priest and lifelong athlete, he was previously the Parfet Distinguished Professor at Kalamazoo College, where he taught for 18 years and also served as dean of Stetson Chapel and director of the Liberal Arts Colloquium.

Dorrien is the author of 14 books and more than 200 articles that range across the fields of ethics, social theory, theology, philosophy, politics, and history. His books include acclaimed works on economic democracy, social ethical theory, theories of myth and interpretation, Barthean neo-orthodoxy, and neoclassical politics. Dorrien’s book Social Ethics in the Making (Wiley-Blackwell, 2010), a comprehensive interpretation of social ethics as an academic field and a tradition of public discourse, won the Choice Award as the outstanding book in ethics for 2009. He has two books forthcoming in early 2012: Kantian Reason and Hegelian Spirit: The Idealistic Logic of Modern Theology (Wiley-Blackwell), which makes an argument about the impact of Kantian and post-Kantian idealism on modern religious thought, and The Obama Question: A Progressive Perspective (Rowman & Littlefield).

A frequent lecturer at universities, conferences, civic groups, and religious communities, Dorrien is a recent past president of the American Theological Society and has a long record of involvement in social justice organizations. His book, Imperial Designs (Taylor & Francis, 2007), grew out of his extensive lecturing against the U.S.’s invasion and occupation of Iraq. His book, Economy, Difference, Empire: Social Ethics for Social Justice (Columbia University Press, 2010), features his lectures on economic democracy, racial and gender justice, and anti-imperial politics.
