Wednesday, March 23, 2011

God and Globalization: A Christian Ethical Reflection

Lectures are free and open to the public.

A limited number of rooms are available on campus for this lecture series. Make reservations in advance through the Seminary Housing Office by calling 412-924-1397.

For information contact:
Continuing Education Office
Pittsburgh Theological Seminary
616 North Highland Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15206
412-924-1345
ConEd@pts.edu
www.pts.edu

The Rev. Dr. Hak Joon Lee
New Brunswick Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, N.J.
Wednesday, March 23, 2011

God and Globalization: A Christian Ethical Reflection

HAK JOON LEE is associate professor of theology and ethics at New Brunswick Theological Seminary in New Jersey. He is a graduate of Chung-Nam National University, Tejon, Korea (B.A.), Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea (M.A.), Temple University (M.A.), and Princeton Theological Seminary (M.A., M.Div., and Ph.D.). Prior to taking a full-time position at New Brunswick in 1998, Dr. Lee served as a teaching fellow at Temple and Princeton, and as an adjunct at Drew University and New York Theological Seminary. In the fall of 2008, he was a visiting scholar at Yonsei University.

Dr. Lee was ordained to the ministry of Word and sacrament by New Brunswick Presbytery (PCUSA) in 1991. He has served as a pastor to college students, a minister to young adults, and an interim pastor. For six years, he also served as senior pastor of The Church in Acts, in Voorhees, N.J. He has spoken frequently in congregations both in Korea and in America.

Dr. Lee has written numerous academic and general articles. He has also authored three books: Covenant and Communication: A Christian Moral Conversation with Jürgen Habermas (University Press of America, 2006), Bridge Builders: Beyond Cultural Differences (In Korean; The Doorea Media, Seoul, Korea, 2007), and We Will Get to the Promised Land: Martin Luther King Jr.’s Communal-Political Spirituality (Pilgrim Press, 2006).

Along with serving on the board of editors for Perspectives: The Journal of Reformed Thought, from 2004-2009, Dr. Lee has been active in a variety of academic, denominational, and community organizations. His interests span a range of issues in religious, community, and global ethics, and he has a continuing interest in cultural, educational, and spiritual concerns related to Asian American communities.

SCHAFF LECTURES IN YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

The Rev. Dr. Hak Joon Lee will speak at the First Presbyterian Church in Youngstown Tuesday, March 22 at 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. For more information, contact the church at 330-744-4307. First Presbyterian Church is located at 201 Wick Ave., Youngstown.

2011 SCHAFF LECTURES

HAK JOON LEE is associate professor of theology and ethics at New Brunswick Theological Seminary in New Jersey. He is a graduate of Chung-Nam National University, Tejon, Korea (B.A.), Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea (M.A.), Temple University (M.A.), and Princeton Theological Seminary (M.A., M.Div., and Ph.D.). Prior to taking a full-time position at New Brunswick in 1998, Dr. Lee served as a teaching fellow at Temple and Princeton, and as an adjunct at Drew University and New York Theological Seminary. In the fall of 2008, he was a visiting scholar at Yonsei University.

Dr. Lee was ordained to the ministry of Word and sacrament by New Brunswick Presbytery (PCUSA) in 1991. He has served as a pastor to college students, a minister to young adults, and an interim pastor. For six years, he also served as senior pastor of The Church in Acts, in Voorhees, N.J. He has spoken frequently in congregations both in Korea and in America.

Dr. Lee has written numerous academic and general articles. He has also authored three books: Covenant and Communication: A Christian Moral Conversation with Jürgen Habermas (University Press of America, 2006), Bridge Builders: Beyond Cultural Differences (In Korean; The Doorea Media, Seoul, Korea, 2007), and We Will Get to the Promised Land: Martin Luther King Jr.’s Communal-Political Spirituality (Pilgrim Press, 2006).

Along with serving on the board of editors for Perspectives: The Journal of Reformed Thought, from 2004-2009, Dr. Lee has been active in a variety of academic, denominational, and community organizations. His interests span a range of issues in religious, community, and global ethics, and he has a continuing interest in cultural, educational, and spiritual concerns related to Asian American communities.

SCHAFF LECTURES IN YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

The Rev. Dr. Hak Joon Lee will speak at the First Presbyterian Church in Youngstown Tuesday, March 22 at 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. For more information, contact the church at 330-744-4307. First Presbyterian Church is located at 201 Wick Ave., Youngstown.
2011 SCHAFF LECTURES

GOD AND GLOBALIZATION:
A CHRISTIAN ETHICAL REFLECTION
The Rev. Dr. Hak Joon Lee
New Brunswick Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, N.J.

Wednesday, March 23, 2011

11:30 a.m.
“Is “Global Ethics” Truly Global?: A ‘Glocal’ Approach to Global Ethics”

4:30 p.m.
“Can Cosmopolitanism Be Locally Rooted?: The Case of Martin Luther King Jr.”

6:00 p.m.
Dinner

7:30 p.m.
“Is America Still a City on a Hill? E Pluribus Unum and a Global Vision of the U.S.”

Reservations are required for the dinner.

- I would like ________ tickets at $10 each for the Schaff Lecture Dinner.
- I cannot attend, but would like to contribute $______ so that student(s) can attend.

Total Enclosed $__________

Make checks payable to Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

For Visa, MasterCard, or Discover payment, please call 412-924-1345.

To register for the Schaff Lecture Dinner return this card to:

Continuing Education Office
Pittsburgh Theological Seminary
616 North Highland Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15206

Please call 412-924-1345 or register and pay online at www.pts.edu/CE_Registration.

If using this mailer as a poster, or for several registrations, you may copy the reply card.